

Discussion Questions

At First Free we want to become a people who are who are “saturated in prayer.”

1 What has your relationship with prayer traditionally looked like? When, where, and how do you usually pray?

2 There are many ways we can incorrectly view God. Which one of these are you most prone towards believing and how does that affect your conversations with God?

- God is a Genie. He provides for me and gives me stuff so that I can be happy.
- God is a Taskmaster. He gives me things to do so that I can please Him and feel valuable.
- God is a Judge. He’s watching and waiting to condemn me based on how I live.
- God is a Watchmaker. He wound up time and left. He isn’t really listening and/or nothing I do or say will change the outcome of His plan.

How could approaching God as your Loving Father instead change your conversations with him?

3 What is one new or creative way you could talk to or spend time with your heavenly Father this week?
